

Hispanic Social Media Campaign

Situation

- The Hispanic/Latino population hadn't been actively engaged by HCA before
- No budget: Needed a cost-effective, targeted solution to reach this audience on a statewide level

Audience

- Unique challenges associated with this audience:
 - Immigration status uncertain
 - Suspicious of government entities/programs
 - Favors one-on-one counseling vs. enrolling for health care online (e.g., HBE site)
 - Language/cultural barriers
 - Transient, flies “under the radar”

Audience (cont.)

- Research shows that this audience is the most “tech savvy” of all groups:
 - Owns the most mobile devices
 - Heavy consumers of digital content
 - Downloads the most video/music of any segment
- Pays attention to advertising
- Communicates through an extensive support network of family, friends, community
- Households composed of large multi-generational families

Strategy

- Facebook Ads and Twitter Ads—in Spanish
 - Surgical Targeting
 - Measurable
 - Inexpensive
- Health Clinic Directory—also in Spanish
 - Created a page on HCA's website and linked to this page from the ads
 - Worked with our partners at Washington Association of Community & Migrant Health Centers (WACMHC) to develop the directory
 - Promotes clinics that specialize in helping this population
- Target Hispanic users
 - Gen-X'ers and Boomers
 - Millennials who are savvy, and more plugged in
 - Encourage them to spread the word to Gen-X'ers and Boomers about affordable health coverage
 - Encourage them to tell family or friends

Targeting

Twitter

These audiences from Twitter partners are based on actual online and offline behaviors and characteristics. Users will be eligible for targeting if they fit with any of the behaviors you select.

Search for behaviors		or	Browse categories
☒ Demographics: Ethnicity	☒ Hispanic language preference: Spanish	☒ Spanish speaking
☒ Demographics: Generation	☒ Generation X'ers	☒ Millennials
☒ Insurance: Health insurance	☒ Likely no major medical insurance

We used the same basic targeting options:

- Hispanics/Latinos
- Spanish-speaking or Bilingual
- Baby Boomers, Gen-X'ers, and Millennials
- Washington State
- ...plus a few others to target more precisely.
